THE ZAHA HADID FOUNDATION SPONSORS EXHIBITION ON ZAHA HADID'S LEGACY AT THE CONTEMPORARY ARTS CENTER, CINCINNATI, USA

The Zaha Hadid Foundation (ZHF) announced today its sponsorship of a major exhibition on Zaha Hadid's architectural legacy at the Contemporary Arts Center (CAC), Cincinnati, USA. Opening on 22 September 2023, A Permanent Nostalgia for Departure: A Rehearsal on Legacy with Zaha Hadid coincides with the 20th anniversary of its Hadid-designed building, the Lois & Richard Rosenthal Center for Contemporary Art. In kind support to CAC, the Foundation loans five of Hadid's paintings and donates a grant to its accompanying artists' commissions programme.

ZHF's loan includes five of Hadid's earliest and most regarded paintings, to support Guest Curator Maite Borjabad's spotlight on the artistic development of Hadid's career and its contemporary lineage. It includes Grand Buildings, Trafalgar Square (1985), Victoria City Aerial (1998) and a conceptual interior painting of CAC's building (1997–2003). Carolyn Hefner, Chief of Development at CAC, said: 'The Zaha Hadid Foundation has been invaluable in their support of this exhibition. We appreciate their dedication to furthering the exploration of Zaha Hadid's legacy'.

In addition, the Foundation contributes a grant to CAC's artists' commissions programme, which funds eight emerging and mid-career artists to produce new work for the exhibition in response to Hadid's lasting influence on them. The grant assists Iraqi artist Rand Abdul Jabbar (b. Baghdad, 1990) to develop Tektōn (after Zaha, after Malevich), a series of full-sized installations made on-site of local rammed Earth, inspired by Hadid's painting Malevich's Tektonik (1976–77).

Professor Paul Greenhalgh, Director of ZHF, said: 'The Zaha Hadid Foundation is delighted to be able to support CAC's innovative and exploratory exhibition, and we are certain that Zaha would have been moved and excited by these artists who have carried the spirit of her vision into another generation'.
